MRS. J. M. REAGAN PASSED AWAY

REMAINS BROUGHT TO GRAYLING FOR INTERMENT. FUNERAL FRIDAY

Mrs. J. M. Reagan, mother of Robert Reagan, and a former well known and highly esteemed resident of this place passed away at her home in Detroit Tuesday morning following a lingering illness.

The remains accompanied by relatives arrived in Grayling today and were taken to the Robert Reagan home and the funeral will be held tomorrow morning (Friday) with services at St. Mary's church at nine o'clock. Interment will be in Elmwood cemetery beside the remains of her husband, who passed away several years ago.

Mrs. Reagan was born in Ovid, Mich., December 8, 1851. Mr. Reagan since a young man had been employed by the Michigan Central railroad and the family made their home in Bay City and later in Grayling. Some years ago Mrs. Reagan gave up her residence here and moved to Detroit.

Those surviving the deceased are three sons and three daughters, all of whom are well known to Grayling people: Mrs. Anna Insley, Hamtramck; Mrs. Alta Skinner, Francis Roan, Detroit; N. C. Reagan, Bay City; Mrs. Helen Peterson, Johannesburg; and Robert M. Grayling. Also 13 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren, one brother and two sisters, Newton Smith and Mrs. James Henderson, St. Johns and Mrs. Lon Dunn, Muskegon.

"OUR GANG" SEWING CIRCLE

A new sewing circle was organized Oct. 11 and will be known as "Our Gang." For their first meeting they were invited to the home of Mrs. J. M. Reagan at East Lansing last Wednesday evening. A delicious chicken dinner was served to the number. The group will meet every Wednesday evening at 7:30. Meetings will be held every Thursday. Last Thursday they met at Mrs. Wakeley's. There were 24 present. Part of the afternoon was spent playing games. Mrs. Jessie Babbitt won the prize of knocking over the most apples, and Mrs. Fern Feldhauser won the penny prize. Which is given away every week.

Mrs. Wakeley served a delicious lunch, the table being beautifully decorated with asters. The afternoon was enjoyed by all.

TROUT RETURNS TO HATCHERY

Supt. P. G. Zalesman of the trout hatchery tells of a brook trout that "came home." A fifteen-month-old brook trout that had been tagged and planted near Stephan's bridge, returned to the hatchery after three days absence. The distance from the hatchery to Stephan's is about 15 miles and that the fish made the distance in three days and got back to the hatchery is quite a surprise to everyone. The tags are numbered and a record is kept just when and where the fish are planted. Whether or not the brook trout have the instinct of homing pigeons remains to be seen. Many trout were similarly tagged and planted and we took for some surprising information to come to light upon the capture of the fish. No doubt some of these will fall the victims of trout fishermen next summer. The Department hopes to get full information as to when and where they are caught.

TOP O' MICHIGAN POTATO AND APPLE SHOW NEXT WEEK

The Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple Show at Grayling will have twice the floor space and over four times the wall space this year as the result of the Northern Auto Co. turning over their garage for the show, according to A. C. Lytle, Secretary. This building is located on Main Street next to the Michigan Central tracks.

The additional space will provide for the increase in entries which has occurred yearly and which should be materially increased this year with the addition of four new counties.

The additional wall space will make it possible to erect several educational exhibits. The Michigan State College has arranged to bring the exhibits which were placed at the State Fair to the home of Mrs. J. M. Reagan at East Lansing last Wednesday evening. A delicious chicken dinner was served to the number. The group will meet every Wednesday evening at 7:30. Meetings will be held every Thursday. Last Thursday they met at Mrs. Wakeley's. There were 24 present. Part of the afternoon was spent playing games. Mrs. Jessie Babbitt won the prize of knocking over the most apples, and Mrs. Fern Feldhauser won the penny prize. Which is given away every week.

Mrs. Wakeley served a delicious lunch, the table being beautifully decorated with asters. The afternoon was enjoyed by all.

HAVING FINE THIP IN PHILIPPINES

Third of series of letters by Lieut. R. Emerson Bates, U. S. Army, written from the Philippines.

Dear Dad and Mother: Four of us hired a car and drove outside Cebu as far as a little town called Consolacion intending to see a sugar central where the sugar cane is made into exportable sugar, however our driver couldn't understand so well and none of us were particularly good in the Visayan dialect so we missed out. But we managed to see the town pretty well and outside the business district it didn't vary from the usual Filipino city with its native Nipa huts and dirty, trashy look. We passed a segregation camp for lepers, but one look was enough for all of us.

We had been on board the ship now about two weeks so wanting a little relaxation the whole passenger list under the supervision of the Captain of the boat "stepped out" to a native cabaret, "The Cebu Blues". Although Cebu is wet like the rest of the islands, nothing was sold at the cabaret except soft drinks and beer. So you see it was really a very mild place. Not at all like we expected to see. I guess we all expected to see a fight in every corner of the room. But the Captain of the boat knew what might have happened for he carried a set of brass knuckles with him.

There were about thirty ballerinas there, some mestizos, but mostly native. Only one wore native dress, so except for the color of the girls it would have seemed almost like an American dance hall. All of us danced and really not one but what was above the average. You remember my telling you about the dance I went to at San Narciso when I was stationed at Ft. Win? This dance was two moderate sized rooms with another cabaret called "Dagang Bundak". A little place about twenty feet square that was really quite native. They were so glad to see six "rich Americans" come in that they kept the place open after the usual closing hour. None of the ballerinas could speak much English but combining their little English with my rusty Spanish and mangling Tagalog, I was able to at least talk a little. When in any of these native towns we usually go to the native market if no more than to look in. The odor of fried fish and other messes that sell are far from tempting but sometimes one can find things to buy. You could guess all day to figure out my purchases at the Cebu market. I got a little romper for Melvin Jr. embroidered with a couple ducks. They wanted two and a half pesos for it but I got it finally for a peso twenty, so don't think I got stung very badly.

Before we left Cebu, a couple of men came up and wanted to sell some pearls. They wanted six pesos apiece but before we were thru haggling with them, I got eleven for forty centavos and then discovered they were wax covered with a real scale. Some of us paid a lot and really did get stung. So I don't feel badly over my twenty cents.

The island of Bohol just across from Cebu is one of the few places where the Chambered Nautilus is found. You remember "Build me more stately mansions etc." I got a couple pretty good specimens and later saw one floating in the water.

After leaving Cebu we came to the ideal tropical island, Balicasag, a little island only a mile in area with wide sandy beach all around it and palm trees in the center. It was a light for our eyes and everyone fell in love with it. You could almost imagine yourself transported into the stories by "Conrad of the Tropical Islands."

We arrived at Siargao Island the same night and although it was late we got off to relax and walk around. Lorenz, the Barrio at which we stopped was all closed up for the night. All the little barrios follow the same custom of going to bed early and this was no exception. We had been used to seeing coconut and palm trees

SOUTH BRANCH RESIDENT PASSED AWAY

Joseph Scott, father of Supervisor Oliver B. Scott of South Branch Township, passed away at his home in that township Sunday, October 21st, after a short illness. Mr. Scott was born in Riga Township, Leelanau County, Michigan, April 1st, 1850. He grew to manhood on the farm and on October 20th, 1872 was married to Miss Elizabeth Peat. To the union nine children were born, six of whom survive, Mary, George, and George passing away in infancy.

On October 13th, 1878, Mr. Scott with his wife and family of then three children came to Crawford County, and located in that part of Crawford County, which was known then as South Branch township, Kalkaska County. The farm which he purchased at that time has been the family home of the Scott family ever since and it was here the old gentleman passed away.

Mr. Scott always enjoyed telling of how the little family got off the train at Roscommon and how he gazed around at the tall stately pines and the rolling hills with the clear, pure land then to Nisipit, Agassaw, river and Surinam. At Surinam we stopped long enough to run into a cabaret for a couple of dances. The next stop was Rasa, then Dahakit Point, Caviti Point, Aragan, Mati, Cape San Pedro, Augustin and Davoo. We were sailing almost two days from Rasa to Davoo and the Pacific was sure rough. I was sick as usual and only got off at Mati. We picked up a Philippine Scout Captain at Mati and took him to Davoo.

We got to Davoo at seven and were to stay until noon. A usual four of us got a car and went far a side. We inspected the town and the shops and found nothing interesting except a cup of Sateurna were that I picked up in a little shop quite reasonably. Mindanao is supposed to be Moro land and some sections are all Moro. But until we got to Davoo we had seen very few of them and no Moro village. Our driver said he would take us to a Moro village about thirty miles away so we figured we could make it on time. But on the road we passed a big hemp plantation and stopped to go all thru it. There were miles and miles of hemp and so thick you couldn't see ten feet from the road.

Hemp belongs to the same family as the banana and it was difficult for me to distinguish the two at first. A pulpy stalk wrapped around other similar stalks like celery only about six inches thick grows up to about six feet then leaps out into one long flat leaf about four feet long and a foot across. The hemp extends from the tip of the leaf to the base of the stalk like the threads in celery. This plantation doesn't bother with the long fiber but cuts the stalk off at the ground and then the leaves. The stalks are carried to the mill and separated into single sections, as each stalk consists of about a half dozen layers. These are laid on a continuous belt and fed into a machine. In about ten seconds from the time it enters until it leaves, the moisture and refuse are squeezed out and a handful of wet hemp comes from the machine. It is then hung up to dry which takes about an hour. From there it goes to a combing machine where it is cleared of all short threads and smoothed out into finished hanks of hemp. It is then baled into three hundred pound bales.

Very dry talking about this, but every process was interesting to us, even the baling process where it was nudged down by barefooted natives who executed an aesthetic dance while doing it.

Will write you later of our visit to the Moro village.

PRIVATE PEAT HERE OCT. 31ST

Private Peat, who emerged from the crucible of the World War, a dynamic youth with a new vision, has become one of the greatest speakers on the platform. As a platform envoy it is doubtful if he has an equal. His new talk, "It's a Long Way to Tipperary," which he will give here, is compounded out of his personal experiences during the great conflict and in the eleven eventful years which has since passed.

The tag which the Red Cross tied to Private Peat was marked "hopeless" when he was picked up on the battlefield in the early days of the war. He lived, however, to write and speak about the war. His article have been syndicated all over the world. He was the chief speaker of A Personal Word to Grayling Citizens the United States and had an important part in negotiations which years ago to hear Private Peat who prevented a menacing strike in the coal fields. His books, "Private Peat" and "The Inexhaustible Lie," a more electric discourse on the war have been read all over the English speaking world.

During the last thirteen years Private Peat has been studying and thinking. He has been thinking of the why of war and he has evolved a philosophy of war and peace which startles as it convinces his hearers. There is a marching rhythm to the speech of Private Peat. He visualizes the drama of war as few soldiers of Grayling takes advantage of hearing this famous soldier of the last war. No group will receive greater help than the High School student, the church member, the parent, the entire body. Will all parents make a real sacrifice to make this a great occasion?

Very sincerely yours, REV. J. W. GREENWOOD.

AN IMMENSE SET

LARGEST EVER BUILT IN STUDIO IN "THE KING OF KINGS"

What is said to be the largest set ever erected for a motion picture was the reconstruction of the massive Temple of Jehovah with its 296 tremendous pillars for the Cecil B. De Mille production, "The King of Kings" which comes to the Grayling Opera House on November 6, 7, 8 and 9. The Temple which played an important part in the religious, political and commercial life of the Jews two thousand years ago was reconstructed from descriptions in both the Old and New Testament.

Thirty-one complete five-room houses could be built from the material used in completing this set. In all there were 400,000 board feet of lumber used in building the frame and 50,000 square yards of lath were needed in finishing.

SUPERB PICTURE IS "THE KING OF KINGS"

DE MILLE'S PRODUCTION MAKES HIT IN EASTERN CITIES

Cecil B. De Mille's highly renowned picture, "The King of Kings," which packed the Aldine Theatre, Philadelphia, for nine weeks, will be on view at the Grayling Opera House on Nov. 6, 7, 8 and 9. Outside of New York and Los Angeles, Philadelphia was one of the few cities of the United States to be favored with an early presentation of this "picture of pictures," as many in New York styled Mr. De Mille's famous production.

With eighteen stars, 500 principals, and a supporting cast of 5,000 persons, "The King of Kings" devotes its story to the last year and a half of the ministry of the Man of Nazareth. All the characters of the New Testament live and move in this remarkable picture. In the cast are H. B. Warner, Dorothy Cumming, Ernest Torrence, Joseph Schildkraut, Jacqueline Logan, Rudolph Schildkraut, Victor Varconi, Majol Coleman, Montagu Love, William Boyd, George Siegmann, Theodore Kosloff, Kenneth Thomson, Julia Faye, Sam De Grasse, Alan Brooks, M. Moore, Muriel McCormack, and others.

"A good material that saved me money"

"That's what CELOTEX did, and here is how I figured it. First, I used CELOTEX for sheathing and got stronger insulated walls. This cost me less money than wood sheathing and building paper. Second, CELOTEX was used in place of lath, and the plaster bonds more securely on CELOTEX. It cost a trifle more, but I have paid dearly in the past for plaster patches and with CELOTEX I get a stronger sound deadened wall that will be free from lath marks. I was able to put in a smaller heating plant and less radiation because I used CELOTEX—so, you see, I saved three ways."

The story of what CELOTEX can do for you is merely suggested in this business man's remarks. Get the rest of it from us.

CONDEMN

An amendment to the state constitution will be submitted in November which provides for what is called excess condemnation.

This amendment was defeated two years ago by a small margin, because voters inferred what was meant was excessive condemnation.

Such is not the case.

The provision is for excess condemnation within "reasonable limitations."

The purpose of the amendment is to reduce the cost of public improvements and make them more effective. By condemning neighboring land, as well as that actually needed, a city or town is able to control the territory immediately adjacent to the improvement.

Often the adjacent land can be sold to help defray the cost of the improvement.

And, since the character of the use may be specified to conform to the general beauty and plan of the improvement.

No city, county nor the state can take advantage of this amendment until after appropriate local legislation.

This leaves the matter one of local option, even after the amendment is passed.

The Avalanche suggests this amendment be supported.

HOLDS SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION

Grayling lodge had a red-letter night last Tuesday when Grand Lecturer F. O. Gilbert was present to conduct a school of instruction.

There were representatives present from Roscommon, Rose City, and Lewiston lodges. Fred Niederer, son of John J. Niederer, was a candidate for the 3rd degree, and Grayling lodge officers and degree team won very flattering comment from Mr. Gilbert. He particularly complimented the Fellowcraft degree team for the excellent manner in which they did their parts, which team had been under instruction of Frank Barnett, Carl W. Peterson, senior warden, was complimented for the pleasing manner in which he gave the masonic lecture. Only a few corrections had to be offered by Mr. Gilbert.

It was a very interesting meeting from first to last. A nice lunch was given after the lodge session, when Past Master M. A. Bates acted as toastmaster.

ATTORNEY GEO. L. ALEXANDER CHAIRMAN COUNTY HOOVER CURTIS LAWYERS ASSN

The nation-wide movement on the part of the lawyers for the Hoover-Curtis ticket has resulted in the formation of a National Hoover-Curtis Lawyers' association, with vice-presidents in every state and in every county of every state, under the leadership of Nathan William McChesney, president, and Elihu Root, honorary president.

The Michigan vice-president is Hal H. Smith of Detroit and the chairman for Crawford County is Mr. Geo. L. Alexander.

"The Hoover-Curtis candidacy makes an appeal to the lawyers," said Mr. Alexander in referring to the lawyers' movement.

"His trained technical mind appeals particularly to members of the Bar of the country. This is in spite of the fact that he does not approach the national problems from a legal standpoint, but rather from the humanitarian point of view. The training in all the professions, whether engineer, doctor, or lawyer, apparently develops a sense of duty and a sense of responsibility."

Mr. Alexander found his strong appeal to the members of the Bar. Then there is his attitude and reasoning upon governmental and economic questions. There he deals with fundamentals in the making of a balanced budget, but always his conclusion is affected and colored by his intense feeling for the welfare of the people—that welfare which he has served so often, not only in the United States but everywhere in the world. The movement amongst the lawyers is meeting with enthusiastic response in all parts of Michigan and will undoubtedly have its good effect in an additional Republican majority."

"THE KING OF KINGS" BIG DRAMA

The subject of Cecil B. De Mille's "King of Kings" is the greatest drama of history—the life, arrest, trial, death and resurrection of the Saviour of the World. By agreement of reviewers everywhere, Mr. De Mille has achieved an extraordinary triumph, and there will be keen curiosity to see this wonderful film on its premier representation here at the Grayling Opera House on Nov. 6, 7, 8 and 9. A tremendous cast of stellar players makes this production one of the most notable of the decade.

FARMERS SHOULD USE PROPER FERTILIZERS

East Lansing, Oct. 22.—In an effort to assist Michigan farmers in the choice of fertilizers for use on different soils and for different crops the soils department at Michigan State College has prepared a list of the fertilizers analysis recommended for use in this state.

This list was submitted for the approval of a group of 125 men who met at the College recently and who represented the companies selling fertilizer, the field extension men, and the farmers themselves.

Three factors must be considered before fertilizer recommendations can be made for any specific farm; the type of soil, the treatment which the soil has previously had, and the kind of crop to be grown on the soil must be known before worthwhile advice can be given.

An example of the different analyses of fertilizer which may be desirable for the same crop on varying soils is given by the recommendations for the use of fertilizer on corn ground.

On light sand where manure has not been used and legumes have not been grown the previous year, the analysis recommended by the soils department for corn is 2-16-2; on clay where manure has been applied the previous year the proper fertilizer is 0-20-0; and, on muck, the use of 0-8-24 is advised.

College courses these days seem to include not only Greek, but a little Scotch.—Springfield (Ohio) Sun.

Confidence in Shell Motor Oil is well placed

It is the kind of oil you would expect Shell to make—sturdy, long-lived, dependable

Shell Motor Oil is backed by the resources and reputation of Shell. It is worthy of the name it bears—worthy to be the companion of Shell Gasoline in your car. Shell-made from start to finish, this dependable oil was developed for the strenuous demands of modern high-speed driving—and is more than equal to the task.

Painstaking thoroughness is evident at every stage in production—for example, the crude oils forming the base of Shell Motor Oil are picked for their rich lubricating properties. The Shell refining process operates only at a low temperature and thus preserves the natural heat resistance of the oil.

Trust your motor car investment to Shell Motor Oil—it stands the gaff—protects every moving metal part in your engine—relieves you of all worries about lubrication. Shell service stations and dealers have it in just the right grade for your car.

The Election Ballot

The Avalanche is pleased to publish a copy of the election ballot, substantially as it will be presented to the voters on election day.

The name of the presidential and vice presidential candidates do not appear on the ballot, and instead the people vote for electors who in turn vote for their party candidate.

A cross in the circle of the Republican column will register a vote for Hoover and Curtis for president and vice president and all other Republican candidates for all offices, including county offices. Should the voter wish to vote for a candidate on another ticket, all that is necessary is to place a cross x in the square before the name of the person for whom they wish to vote. It will not be necessary to erase the name of the candidate for whom they do not wish to vote.

A cross in the circle beneath the Democratic vignette will be a vote for Smith and Robinson and all other Democratic candidates. The same is true for each party ticket, and splitting is done as stated above. A voter should never under any circumstances split names from among the presidential electors. That would only cause confusion. However that sometimes happens in spite of the unreasonableness of it.

We are sure everyone will be deeply interested in studying the ballot. Should there be any doubt on the part of any voter as to just how to vote, ask some more experienced voter for help. Assistance is available at any time at the Avalanche office, and it will be gladly given.

There is no reason for any new or timid voter to hesitate on voting at this election. Voting is simple but highly important. Never, in our opinion, has there been a time in the history of our nation when the importance of voting has been so great as at this time. Let's do our citizenship duty on November 6th.

So, let's get out the vote. Be sure that you are registered and that your neighbor and his family is registered.
Next Saturday is the last day. Then see that every voter in your township votes.

A noted physician says that "the best reducing system is described in four words: "No more, thank you."—

The executive board of the Lake St. Helen Club has decided to establish a game refuge on the club's 6000 acre game preserve. Some 1000 acres of woods along about five miles of shore line on the lake has been set aside as the first unit of the game refuge. The boundaries of this tract have already been posted with appropriate signs. If this sanctuary is successful the club contemplates setting off a still larger refuge next year.
